OUR ANNUAL REVIEW.
The large size edition of the PRESS AND TRIBUNE which we printed containing our Annual Review, is nearly exhausted. We shall have ready in a few days a pamphlet edition of the Review, which will be for sale at the counting room and at the newsrooms.
FOREIGN NEWS.
The European news this morning, though without startling features, has great interest to all who have been observant of the progress of the Italian question. If popular sentiment is worth anything to the Continent, the right of Italy to govern herself in her own way seems to be already assured. But it is too much to expect that the Congress about to meet at Zurich will settle the terms of peace and treaty, will permit any arrangements not devised for the benefit of the governing classes. But any change is for the better; and it is possible that out of the complications of the present may grow a good, sound and vigorous constitutional government, in which the Pope and his priests will have no share.
CONGRESS.
The usual routine was gone through with yesterday in the House of Representatives—two or three hours' debate and then a vote—with the same result as on the previous day—Sherman lacking three votes of an election. When this folly will end, the Sage Astrologers only KNOW. The Republicans, we are proud to say, show no signs of flinching, but come up to the work, when a vote is reached with steady, unbroken ranks, while the twisting and squirming of the Democracy and its allies affords the strongest evidence of the false and untenable position which they occupy.
The New York Times.
The New York Times, politically the most thoroughly detestable of all American journals, not excepting the New York Observer even, published the Prospectus in our advertising columns this morning. Aside from its proclivities to the worst Democracy, the Times is a first-class paper, especially in it enterprising, indefatigable in its news department, in the conduct of which it has quite eclipsed the once brisk and zealous but now lazy Herald. Here the Times is without a superior. What further it promises to become, the Prospectus will tell.
Mr. Ichabod Codding.
It will not be necessary to say to those who understand that the Chicago Times never tells the truth of a political foe, and rarely of anybody, that Mr. Ichabod Codding did not speak at the Mechanics' Institute Hall on Wednesday evening last, as stated by that sheet. For the information of those who are not in the above secret, we make the correction.
Cook County National Democratic Convention.
The Cook County National Democratic Convention assembled at the Recorder's Court Room, in the city of Chicago, on Monday, P. M. January 6th, 1860, and was called to order by Isaac Cook, upon whose motion Col. J. S. Speed was called to the Chair, and Stephen T. Hosmer was appointed Secretary. The following named gentlemen were appointed Vice Presidents of the Convention:
Daniel Martin, S. H. Foster, Silas Shurtleff, Jas. O'Conner, and Michael O'Shaughnessy.
On motion, the Secretary called the roll of delegates elected to this Convention, when the following gentlemen answered and took their seats within the bar of the house:

On motion of Mr. Cook, a committee of five were appointed by the chair to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the Convention. The chair appointed the following: Isaac Cook, Thos. Shirley, J. J. O'Sullivan, Sam'l Ashton and A. P. Sharp.
After being absent a short time the Committee returned and made the following report, and on motion of Mr. Hosmer the resolutions were adopted:
Resolved, That we, the National Democracy of Cook county, hereby renew our pledge of attachment to the principles of which we have always been the firm and steadfast stages of the National Democratic party, and that we subject to and stand by the Cincinnati Platform as laid down by the National Democracy in Congress assembled.
Resolved, That the administration of James Buchanan has commanded our warmest approbation; and we hereby tender to the President of the United States our hearty thanks for the faithful manner in which he has carried out, in the conduct of his administration, the principles of democracy as expounded and practiced by the Fathers of our Republic.
Resolved, That the National Democracy of Cook county take this occasion to repudiate all sympathy with, and to express their detestation of, the heresies of Seantle Sovereignty, as originally enunciated, or more recently laid down in the "Freeport Doctrine," and hereby declare their adherence to the Constitution of the Union, the decision of the Supreme Court, and to the platform of the time-honored principles of the Democratic party.
Resolved, That the editorials in Harper's Ferry, of the inflammable records of the "black" Republican party, manifested open hostility to Democratic men, Democratic principles, and Democratic measures, and in connection therewith, we join in with the unanimous effort of the slightest departure from the time-honored, peace-loving, Democratic principles, Constitution and laws of our country, and respect for the rights of our fellow citizens.
A committee of five from the city and the delegation from the country were appointed to nominate delegates to attend the State Democratic Convention at Springfield, on the 10th inst. The Chair appointed the following: Isaac Cook, Thos. Shirley, Wm. Hanshell, Peter Conserton, Jacob Ransome, John Jackson, Chas. Wollett, H. H. Abbott, J. M. Porter, L. C. Keeler, Daniel Martin and Ira Woodford, Esqrs.
The committee reported the following names, and on motion of Col. Hosmer, the report was unanimously adopted.
Delegates—Isaac Cook, Ter. Shirley, H. S. Fitch, Thos. Hoyne, F. H. Kales, Isaac Cook, H. E. Kales, L. C. Ewell, H. Monahan, Stephen T. Hosmer, Jacob Ransome, Wm. Hanshell, Peter Conserton, Jacob Ransome, John Jackson, Chas. Wollett, H. H. Abbott, J. M. Porter, L. C. Keeler, Daniel Martin and Ira Woodford.
After a motion to adjourn made by Isaac Cook, three cheers were called for in honor of the President and the Democratic Administration which were given with a will.
Two Southern Items.
SOUTHERN ARMORY.—Resolutions were adopted in the House of Representatives of Georgia on the 26th ult., requesting the Governor to confer with the Executive of the several Southern States on the plan of establishing a Southern Armory. The Legislature appropriated $5,000 for the purpose, and called for plans, models, estimates or persons to make estimates and estimates for such an armory in Georgia—all the information to be laid before the next General Assembly, "to maintain our equal and undeniable rights in the Union, if we can, and out of it if we must."
A writer in the Georgia Constitutionalist is out in favor of rescinding the three fifths rule used in apportioning representation in Congress per capita on all the slaves in the Southern States, and declares, that the South should not be satisfied, unless this be done right away. He is also out in favor of a new fugitive slave law, making the General Treasury responsible for the value of the fugitive, if not recovered, of a reverse law upon such action only as are used North and South, and of a federal patrolling system to carry that slaves into every State of the Union and let them there if they choose to stay.

VOLUME XIII. CHICAGO, SATURDAY, JANUARY 7, 1860. NUMBER 162

THE CITY.

Remember the "Haymakers" at Metropolitan Hall on Tuesday evening.

DISSOLUTION, &c.—See announcement of Shurtleff, Cochrane & Co.'s dissolution in another column.

HELMER'S INVISIBLE CORSET.—A fresh lot just received and for sale by Bamford & Baldwin, No. 13 Lake street.

YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATION.—Horace Greeley will deliver the next lecture before the Young Men's Association, on the 19th inst.

ASSAULT.—John Becker and Philip Hill gave bail in the sum of $1,000 yesterday to answer to a charge of assault.

HELD TO BAIL.—Mrs. O'Mara was held to bail in the sum of $1,000 yesterday to answer to the charge of assaulting Mrs. Duffy's thawl. It will be remembered that she was fined $100 and costs for the same offense some days ago.

FIRE.—On Thursday night an alarm of fire was given for the premises of D. C. South, Division by the taking fire of a wooden basement on Michigan Avenue below Old street. It was extinguished with small loss by the residents in that vicinity.

☞ The Times wears very jolly over the "Sherman sell." And yet that concern was among the sold, and in common with its friends, then in Convention at Springfield, had a horrible scare. It was not until 11 o'clock P. M. that it dared to feel "out of the woods," and begin to arrange a story for its morning issue.

ANY PORT IN A STORM.—Frank Conley, whose weather beaten craft has been worn over and half seas over in water and whiskey-and-water made a pathetic appeal yesterday to be admitted to Mr. Justice's clam in-mineralogy. He was accommodated as every way qualified. Frank's friends may address him at Bridewell.

FIRE ON SOUTH CLARK STREET.—The Fire Department were called out about half-past one o'clock yesterday morning by an alarm proceeding from a fire discovered in a small hat and cap store on South Clark street near Van Buren. A few pails of water, however, readily extinguished the flames.

THE REFORMED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH EDIFICE.—We notice that the edifice of the Reformed Presbyterian Church on Fulton street, once burned in the great fire and again blown down in the gale, is being as rapidly rebuilt as the vicissitudes of the season will allow. The walls are up, and the roof nearly covered.

☞ Attention is called to the closing sale of Hotel Furniture by Gilbert & Sampson, corner of Wabash Avenue and South Water street this morning. A large quantity of rich Furniture, Mirrors, Carpets, Bedding, Damask Curtains, &c., will be sold. Also, all the Knives, Forks, and Spoons, Butter Knives and Plated Ware.

THE CHICAGO LEAD WORKS.—We are glad to notice that the Chicago Lead Works of E. W. Blatchford & Co., on the corner of Clinton and Fulton streets, destroyed during the great fire in the West Division, are once more in operation. They will only turn out lead pipe during the winter, but re-commence early in the spring the manufacture of sheet lead.

MUSICAL SOIREE AT THE RICHMOND.—We learn that a Musical Soiree, for the benefit of Mr. Le Claque will take place at the Richmond House on the evening of Friday, the 13th inst., comprising the choice musical talent of the city. The best talent of the city have been engaged to make the musical feature of the highest merit.

A LOST TRAMP THROUGH THE WILDERNESS.—Capt. Jack Wilson, of steamer Lady Elgin, arrived in this city last evening, and is stopping at the Richmond House. Capt. Wilson left Copper Harbor, where the Lady Elgin is frozen in, and walked the whole distance to Warner, Wis., about 330 miles, occupying 21 days in accomplishing the journey.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—We are requested to state J. E. Cone, Esq., will deliver an address on Temperance at the Methodist Church, on Desplaines street, between Van Buren and Harrison streets, on Saturday evening, at 7½ o'clock, on which occasion a Temperance Society will be formed for active service in that portion of the city.

THE CHRISTIAN TIMES.—We have before us the Christian Times, the able organ of the Baptist denomination in the North west, comes out with the New Year in a new dress and enlarged. We are glad to witness such tokens of prosperity. It has a circulation of some seven or eight thousand, and is one of the best and handsomest religious weeklies in the Northwest.

☞ That irrepressibly flunkey sheet, Harper's Weekly Journal of Civilization, comes out with a comic sketch of Goldmbia waking up to the fact of her boys (the representatives of the North and South) kicking up a row. True to the spaniel like instincts of the Harpers, the boys of the South are all nice lads, diligently studying the "Constitution," all the trouble apparently springing from the highly injurious and pestiferous North.

NOT ANGELIC.—A youth named George Angel, upon whom, however, a close examination failed to develop any traces of wings, or indeed any trait imputed to those of his name, was in yesterday's Police Court, charged with poverty, shiftlessness and a propensity to haunt saloons and low places. He is suspected of thievish practices, and to keep him out of harm's way, he was made an angel visitant to Bridewell for one month.

STATE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—The First Anniversary of the Illinois State Temperance Union will be held at Bloomington on Wednesday, the first day of February. All friends of Temperance are earnestly invited to be present. Addresses may be expected from the following gentlemen: Bishop Simpson, of Evanston; Rev. Dr. Beecher, of Galesburg; President Reed, of Shurtleff College; Judge Robbins, of Springfield; Rev. Dr. Skinner, of Joliet; Prof. S. C. Bartlett and Dr. N. S. Davis, of Chicago. A large Convention is expected.

MINISTRY AT LARGE.—A man who has seven children and no end of poverty, a stranger, and friendless in our city, wants work at any honest job, for any price. He has hunted the city over and over for work; is a willing and capable man. He is from New York State.

We have three other good men—German and American—who want work also. Several Irish women who want housework; and three boys, 10 to 14 years of age, who want places in town or country. Apply to Robert Collyer, 189 Randolph street, up stairs.

DOUBLE CASE.—The only completed police case yesterday was decision by Justice Milliken on a habeas corpus in rem duty. The canine was a liver colored pointer claimed under the fugitive act by Mr. Thomson, of Thomson & Alston, but holden by a saloon keeper. Property was proven and the pointer's points pointedly pointed out, whereupon the plaintiff made his replevied and his pointer, and per centre the saloon-keeper missing his point was disappointed and lost the pointer, for which he said he paid ten dollars. That is just the price of his lesson put to buy canines from strangers.

THE SOIREE OF MRS. BOSTWICK AND HER PUPILS.—The elements were unkindly last night for an occasion looked forward to with much pleasure by many of our citizens. Despite however the rain, and the slippery and dangerous walking, an audience very respectable in numbers, and the very best and most appreciative of our concert goers, passed a charming evening at Metropolitan Hall, thanks to the excellent entertainment set forth by Mrs. Emma C. Bostwick and her young lady pupils, assisted by well-known amateurs. We have no intention of particularizing, but may say of the soiree as a whole, that package money has been expended on vocalists from the East, and from abroad, who have charmed our audiences less than the home talent of last evening. The whole was infinitely creditable to Mrs. Bostwick and to her fair pupils.

A SICKLES AFFAIR OF THE WEST SIDE.
A Husband Shoots his Wife's Paramour.
Yesterday afternoon the Sheriff's office and vicinity was thrown into excitement by the sudden and disturbed entrance of a young man, a German, who demanded to be taken into custody, saying he had killed a man, and adding, "It's another Sickles case." The self-accuser was of good appearance and intelligence, and gave to his name as August Williams. After hearing his story, he was informed that he could only be admitted to the jail by proper process, when he eagerly asked to be put in the way of securing the same. W. H. Eddy, who was standing by, thereupon accompanied the man to Justice DeWolf's office, where, upon his own showing, a mittimus was duly made out, and Williams' further request to see a lawyer complied with, when John Lyle King, Esq., became his counsel.
From what we can learn of the affair, and by means of a visit to the locality where the tragedy took place, we are able to present the following particulars. August Williams and Charles Kaufkoltz have been partners in the milk business in a small way. Between the two, however, had sprung up a difficulty which ended their connection. Williams, two years ago, married a young country woman of his, Mary Deutsch, whose parents reside in this city. The union seems to have been marked with affection at the outset on the part of the husband, but the pair have not lived happily. At one time since he sent her home to her mother, with the request that she would learn her daughter to do house-work, engaging to pay her board which he did. The wife returned to her husband sometime after, promising to do better duty as a house-keeper.
Previous to her return to her mother, Williams had suspected some intimacy between his partner in the milk trade and his partner connubial, and this same cause of jealousy was revived upon her coming back to his home. The pair have a child six months old, of which Williams was very fond, and often begged his wife, for the sake of their little one, to be more circumspect. A short time since she again went home to her parents to stay.
Kaufkols has been a low worthless fellow, and latterly very dissipated. Between himself and Williams there had been no outbreak. On Thursday evening the former was on a high spree at the rooms he occupied at 41 Owen-st. He took off his coat suddenly, and some loose papers were scattered upon the floor. Williams was present, and without other than a friendly purpose collected the papers, and was about to return them, when he caught sight of his wife's name on one of them, and contrived to retain possession of it. He read it over and found it a full confession of his wife's infidelity, and her acceptance of a proposition from Kaufkols to elope. The letter was a copy of the original, which the now enraged husband demanded of his wife yesterday. After some hesitation she burst into tears and made a full confession of her guilt.
Williams procured a large old-fashioned, horseman's pistol, loaded it heavily with powder and buckshot, and went to No. 41 Owen street about half past twelve o'clock. He knocked at the door, which was opened by his destined victim, when Williams placed the muzzle of the weapon to Kaufkoln's right side just above the left breast and fired. The wounded man struggled with his assailant, when Williams clubbed his heavy pistol and struck him over the head, cutting the scalp open in a frightful wound.
All this took place without a word exchanged on either side. Williams then dropped his pistol, went to the house of his father-in-law, on Gurley street, there embraced his child with much emotion, saying, "I shall never see you again." He then came down to the jail as already narrated.
Williams converses readily about the affair, which he justifies, and indeed seems to place in so exact a parallel to the Sickles' case, that it is apparent he has studied it as a precedent. He says he "took the precaution to leave that letter" with his brother, a druggist on State near Twelfth street, which is "all he wants to clear him."
The wounded man, Kaufkolz, lies in a very critical condition, at apartments to which he has been removed on Canal street. He complained last evening of suffering much both from his head and chest, both being deemed dangerous wounds. His face and neck are completely filled with powder, as near was the muzzle when the pistol was discharged.
The case as regards Williams will remain as at present, pending the result of the injuries of Kaufkolz.
SAD CASUALTY.—A MAN RUN OVER ON THE CHICAGO & ROCK ISLAND R. R.—A sad accident happened on the Chicago & Rock Island Railroad, on Thursday night, a man being run over and killed; a few miles below this city, by the mixed train on that road due here at 8 o'clock P. M.
Coroner James held an inquest yesterday, by which the facts were fully developed, and the employees of the Company fully exonerated from all blame. Deceased was a single man, named Michael Somas, and residing with a sister near the Junction. He has been in the business of dealing in cattle on a small way, and, on the afternoon in question, had purchased four head—two cows and their calves—which he was driving home.
Just as the train reached the crossing, the engineer saw a cow dart in front of the engine. Immediately a man appeared, making hurried attempts to push the animal off the track. The evening was quite light, but evidently the man miscalculated his distance or the speed of the train, for it was too late to prevent his being struck by the engine and thrown to one side. He was picked up dead, a fatal blow having fallen upon his head.
It is said deceased had a brother killed on a railroad in Ohio some time since. He had himself been working on a railroad up to that time, but immediately left the employ, and his since cherished and expressed an unconquerable dread of railroad accidents, from which however he has met his own fate.
THE OTTAWA RESCUERS—MOTION TO QUASH THE INDICTMENT OVERRULED—JAMES STOUT GIVES BAIL.—The arguments on the motion to quash the indictment in the Ottawa Rescue Cases were made in the United States Court yesterday, by friendless in our city, wants work at any honest Messrs. Larned, Goodwin and Arnold, on behalf of the defence, and by U. S. Dist. Attorney Fitch for the prosecution.
It will be remembered that the defence claimed that the negro, James Gray, was presumed to be a free man; that he could be arrested only in one of four ways; 1st. By the claimant in person without process. 2d. By an attorney or agent duly authorized by written acknowledgment. 3d. By a Marshal or a Deputy Marshal with a warrant duly issued upon oath of claimant. 4th. By a person specially appointed by a Commissioner, as it was moved therefore to quash the first and fourth counts because it does not allege that Isaac N. Albright was an agent of Phillips, by power of Attorney, the claimant, authorized to arrest; and the second and third because it does not allege that Albright was a deputy Marshal authorized to arrest.
The Court sustained the motion as to the first and fourth, and overruled it as to the second and third.
James Stout, one of the citizens in custody gave bail in $1,500. The other two were, at their own request, returned to the jail. They are being urged by their friends to take the bail offered.
BOSS DRIVER ARRESTED.—The public are only interested in the Randolph street omnibus vs. car controversy to the extent their lives, liberty and pursuit of happiness be not interfered with. The quarrel of late has, however, invaded these rights, and on Thursday night another of the "bus drivers was arrested for needlessly hindering the progress of a car. He gave special bail.
THE ODELL TRAM.—George A. Johnson of Blue Island identifies the team used by Odell and Pine, now in custody, as his property taken from him a few nights since. A charge of horse stealing is thus piled on their other transgressions.

THE WEATHER—SHARP MATTERS—MAYOR HARRIS' PROCLAMATION.—On Thursday night the weather moderated during a snow-fall, which turned to rain, but so near the freezing point as to congeal where it fell, and the whole town yesterday morning was frosted like a bride cake. Every exposed surface was sheeted in transparent ice. Pedestrianism was only accomplished under difficulties yesterday. The sleighs, however, skimmed merrily about on the best basis furnished this season.
The snow and ice covered sidewalks deserve the immediate attention of citizens, to further and incite which notice, the following is in point. It will be rigidly enforced, we hope, and all interested will do well to "take up the shovel and the hoe":
PROCLAMATION.
MAYOR'S OFFICE, CHICAGO, JAN. 6, 1860.
The owners and occupants of lots fronting on streets where there are sidewalks, are hereby notified that the provisions of section 18, article 2, chapter 99 of the revised ordinances will be enforced. Said section provides that the occupant of each and every tenement or building in the city fronting upon any street, the sidewalk of which is plank, stone, or brick, or the owner of any unoccupied lot fronting as aforesaid, shall cause all the snow and ice to be removed from the footways of each day, and cause the same to be kept clear, or be subject to a fine of two dollars and costs, and a like penalty of two dollars and costs for every twelve hours such sidewalk shall remain so unremoved after notice from the Mayor and Aldermen, or any police officer.
JOHN C. HARRIS, Mayor.

ACCIDENT ON THE HORSE CARS.—One of the hostlers of the City Railway Co., had his foot run over on Thursday, while getting off the front end of a State street car while the same was in motion. A dangerous practice for anybody. Dr. G.A. Hahn was called to attend to the case, and thinks that he may possibly save the limb, although it is somewhat doubtful.
☞ Attention is called to the closing sale of Hotel Furniture by Gilbert & Sampson, corner of Wabash Avenue and South Water street, this morning. A large quantity of rich Furniture, Mirrors, Carpets, Bedding, and Damask Curtains will be sold. Also, all the Knives, Forks, Spoons, Butter Knives and Plated Ware. This will positively be the last day of sale.
ACCIDENT.—We learn that on Thursday Mr. William D. Anderson, in the employ of the Chicago & Rock Island R. R. Co., while driving through South Wells street, was thrown out of his buggy by his horse taking fright, breaking two of his ribs and otherwise severely bruising him.
MASSES. ENTRON:—The colored citizens of Chicago, held a festival in their Mechanics' Institute Hall, on Wednesday evening last, for the benefit of the suffering families, caused by the late terrible fire. Quite a large company of the occasion were H. F. Douglass and the Rev. Robt. Collyer. Both speakers did ample justice to the heroic subject in hand.
The net proceeds of the occasion were sixty-eight dollars, as reported by the principal actors, the following ladies:
Mrs. H. F. DOUGLASS, President.

BY TELEGRAPH.

FROM TEXAS.

Desperate Fight between the Americans and Mexicans—60 Mexicans Captured—9 Americans Killed and 16 Wounded.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6.—The steamer Indianola has arrived with Brownsville dates to the 3d inst. Cortinas, with 500 men, took Rio Grande City on the 27th, killing a number of citizens. Subsequently a body of troops and rangers from Brownsville attacked Cortinas and retook the city, after a hard fight, capturing his guns and sixty Mexicans. Nine Americans were killed and sixteen wounded. Among the latter was Capt. Ford, who led the attack. Cortinas fled across the river.

THIRTY-SIXTH CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 6, 1860.

SENATE—Not in session.

HOUSE—Mr. Miles said it was not his purpose yesterday to make a regular speech, but to suggest how it could be presented among the three elements which are equally opposed to the Republican party. The colloquial debate which then took place was happy in its results. Herald last month said the Democracy properly responsible for non-organization. He was not a party man but an outsider. Though he had been acting with the Democratic party, he was an independent State Rights man; and, therefore, from his position could speak calmly, gravely and independently. The Republican candidates are particularly objectionable as representing Southern constituencies, in consequence of his connection with Helper's book. Which declared the most vile and atrocious sentiments. Here a concentration of the South are gentlemen against Mr. Sherman. He argues that the responsibility of non-organization rests with the anti-Lecompton Democrats. Those anti-Lecompton Republicans who voted the Republican ticket are, in effect, anti-Lecompton. The responsibility of non-organization rests on the shoulders of those who voted for neither Democrat nor Republican, because the Southern Opposition intimate that they will join the Democratic proper, whenever it is shown that such a union will defeat their measures.

Mr. Haskin wished to know whether, as the principle laid down by Mr. Miles, the Democrats who voted for Mr. Maynard did not therefore by the American.

Mr. Miles did not think so, because Mr. Maynard was outside the American party.

Mr. Haskin supposed the National Convention determined political Orthodoxy. He understood Fillmore was the candidate, for whom Mr. Maynard were an electee, was in the American organization.

Mr. Miles said he had voted for Maynard, and would vote out-and-out American, with the view of defeating the Republicans.

Mr. Haskin said he voted for Mr. Gilmer, a member of the American party, desiring to organize the House.

Mr. Miles did not vote for Mr. Gilmer, and would not under any circumstances; besides, Mr. Gilmer was not now a candidate before the House.

Mr. Adrain said he yesterday spoke of the anti-Lecompton Democrats on this floor who had cast their votes for Speaker for one of their own number. The gentleman from Pennsylvania, [Mr. Montgomery,] asked what he meant by the anti-Lecompton Democrats. In this he showed extreme sensitiveness, and seemed to think he, [Adrain], intended to insinuate that he, [Montgomery], was not an anti-Lecompton Democrat. He was elected as an anti-Lecompton Democrat against an Administration organization. The Americans and Republicans chose to support him in preference to his competitor, and he should always feel grateful to his political opponents for the support they gave him in 1858. He differed from Mr. Buchanan on Territorial policy, but that was no evidence he was not a Democrat. He conceived it was proper that he was a Democrat because he opposed the Administration. The editor of the American at Trenton said he and Mr. Biggs had been consistent in their votes here, and neither had forsaken nor the Democracy could have any fault to find.

Mr. Moore of Ky. said Mr. Adrain had remarked that the Southern Opposition would cast no vote for a Democrat. If that was so he had failed to have that acuteness necessary to obtain the information. He was ready to make a choice between Bell and Douglas. [Laughter.] If the Anti-Lecompromises have a choice, let them come to the scratch, and vote for a Democrat in preference to a Republican. The gentleman from Ohio, (Mr. Cox,) said the other day, if it had not been for Brown's raid the Southern Opposition and the Republicans would have formed an alliance. He protested that such a remark was without foundation in fact.

Mr. Cox expressed the hope that the gentleman [Mr. Moore,] would make some more argument on that point, as it would not be edifying to attack a man when he could have no opportunity to reply.

Mr. Moore said there is no need of attacking the gentleman now; I can attack him at any time. [Laughter.]

Mr. Adrain was in favor of the election of a Speaker by a majority vote, but would vote for a plurality rule in the event the House could be organized in no other way.

Mr. Clark, of Mo., denied that the Lecompton issue is dead, as was declared. The Lecompton Constitution was dead and deserved to die; and when it died it killed its author, Douglas. The Kansas controversy is by no means ended. The English bill, which passed both Houses, and remains in full force, and the application for admission by Kansas, which will be made as soon as the House organizes, will encounter that at the threshold. Before he could answer the interrogatory of Mr. Windom, he desired to be informed whether the Democratic party of the House intend to resist the application of Kansas for admission. That is a material point, which affects the action of all Lecompromises.

Mr. Dejarnette replied that the purpose of those with whom he acted would be made known when that question comes before the House. The people of Virginia are determined in future to demand the observance of the guarantees of the Constitution, and reply by force to any violation of them.

Mr. John Cochrane moved to adjourn.

Mr. Hickman claimed the floor, in order to move the plurality rule.

Mr. Houston regarded the course of Mr. Hickman, in offering to amend the motion to suspend to election, as unprecedented and unparliamentary.

Mr. Briggs wished to define his position. He came there as an American, opposed to the Administration of the Administration. In his District he was nominated by the Americans and supported by the Republicans. His party was sufficiently numerous to return him here. No one had ever approached him to ask him to abandon any principle he had ever maintained. He had never said he would not vote for a Republican, but he did say he could never support such men as Corwin or Pennington, men of national views, but who could endorse the sentiments of Hedger's book? He believed that Mr. Sherman repudiated such sentiments, and were it not that he is restrained by his friends, the gentleman from Ohio would emphatically so declare. In reply to Mr. John Cochrane's remarks, made the other day, he defended Americans from the charges of proscription, and in support of his position, pointed to the fact that the Americans, last autumn, were the cause of electing half of the Democratic State ticket in New York State. They were the only Representative here from the North as the embodiment of American sentiments.

Mr. Cochrane, in reply, said there was at the last fall election a body of patriotism men who approached half way to the Democratic party, and voted half the State ticket. He congratulated his colleague that this much was accomplished. He asked them to bring merely half way over Democrats, but altogether, as he was.

Mr. McKeon asked Mr. Cochrane whether he accepted the Buffalo platform. [Laughter.]

Mr. Cochrane responded that the party of the Democratic party could bear even that—but let me advise the gentleman to forsake the miseries and troubles of the past and advance to a more calm and better breezes blow. [Laughter.] It had been announced what mountains had to be leaped, and rivers forded, and midnight darkness penetrated by those who were in search of the Union. Those things beset the Buchanvers of New York, for they wandered through byways until they reached Seneca Cliff, from which they looked down on prairies below, and exclaimed, "How goodly are thy tents, oh, saval!" [Laughter.]

Mr. Stanton—What will they find at the end of the road? Any pearls?

Mr. Cochrane—Ah! you will not find the flesh pots of Egypt. You will find the Promised Land, where principles are found, and where the lion and lamb lie down together. [Renewed laughter.] You will find that is the Democracy which pervades and will save the Union. He did not know he had made use of the term Proscription in speaking of the American party, but it was now like dissolving views of the past.

Mr. Morry having been brought to the House from his sick room, Mr. Cochrane withdrew his motion to adjourn.

The House proceeded to vote for Speaker, as follows:

Whole number of votes	232
Necessary to a choice	117
Wm. Pennington, of New Jersey	115
John Sherman	107
Gilmer	14
Campbell	11
Davis	1
Scattering	16

Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.—The Governor's Message was transmitted to-day. He congratulates the citizens on the return of the Sabbath, and the prospect of the gradual absorption of the State debt by the sinking fund, now rising of five millions. Referring to the frauds in the elective franchise, he recommends additional legislation, thinking the present provisions of the Constitution and statute book are found to be insufficient. He refers to John Hall Harper's Ferry affair as a reason for prompt legislation to encourage volunteer military organizations and State militia; also for legislation in regard to the free negro population. He refers to the importunement of Reverdi Meyers, a citizen of Maryland, in Pennsylvania, on the charge of kidnapping and bringing back certain fugitive slaves, charged from Maryland. He asks for an appropriation to defray the expenses of trial on a writ of error for the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, to test the validity of the Pennsylvania act, which promises to punish as crime the lawful recapture of fugitives from service.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The weather throughout England had been very severe. On the night of the 29th the thermometer is reported to have fallen within three or four degrees of zero. Canal navigation was effectually suspended by ice, and Railroad traffic more or less retarded by the snow, which had fallen. At the departure of the steamer, a thaw had set in.

The Cunard Co. had purchased the screw steamer Australasian to reinforce their fleet of screw vessels. The Australasian is reported to be one of the finest vessels of the kind afloat.

A small tin canister was picked up at the mouth of the Mersey with the announcement inside that the screw steamer Great Britain had foundered off the Western Islands. It was supposed to be a villainous hoax, as the Great Britain only left Liverpool on the 11th for Melbourne, and the canister was picked up five days thereafter.

Hon. H. Fitzroy, first Commissioner of Public Works, is dead.

The official inquiry into the loss of the steamer Indian is ordered by the Board of Trade to take place at Liverpool.

The session of the Corps Legislatif was expected to commence at Paris on the 16th of January.

Count Varalgney, the French Minister to England, had arrived in Paris. Private letters from Cadiz, state that the Cadiz journals announce that Marshal O'Donnel has declared Ceuta a free port.

A Madrid telegram says: "Yesterday 15,000 Moors attacked the left redoubt, but Gen. Ross De Olana surrounded them with with his right wing and drove them back at the point of the bayonet. Our artillery inflicted great loss upon them. Our troops, as they invariably do, displayed great valor. Gen. Cassis and Gerois particularly distinguished themselves. The enemy lost 1,500 men. We had 140 killed and 100 wounded. Heavy rains had inundated the Spanish Camp and surrounding country."

ITALY.—Letters from Rome state that during the night between the 12th and 13th of December, numerous arrests were made, including several eminent persons. The persons arrested were accused of clandestinely printing journals, and of having supported the subscription in behalf of Garabaldi, several documents concerning which were seized. The Sardinian Consul was arrested, but speedily released.

It was reported at Rome that Cardinal Antonelli would embark on the 25th December in the Pontifical corvette for Paris.

RUSSIA.—A telegram from St. Petersburg of the 15th, says that Mahomed Amit, the principal chief of the Mountaineers of the right wing of Caucasus, had submitted, the consequence of which is the submission of the whole people of that country.

The Czar had raised Gen. Barabeck to the rank of Marshal.

The St. Petersburg journal publish news from Caucasus, announcing that the people of Abhasieph, numbering 100,000, with their chiefs, had declared their submission, and that other tribes were preparing to submit.

At Stockholm an enthusiastic demonstration in favor of the Italian people had taken place, and the Diet unanimously resolved to present an address to the King, requesting His Majesty to defend at the Congress the right of the Italian people to decide their own affairs.

PARIS, 21st.—The Bourse opened firm, and rentes closed at 70f 60c, being an advance of f per cent. since yesterday.

Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—The message of Gov. Banks, delivered to the Legislature to-day, mainly relates to the affairs of the State. He says the people are represented to be in a prosperous condition. The Governor devotes some space to the present existing National questions, in which he says the repeal of the Missouri Compromise was the most stupendous public wrong ever committed in this country. The rights of labor, the rights of States, the equality of people, the observance of the Constitutional limitations or the perpetuation of free institutions. A violent contest must be maintained, or violent succeed. The people of Mass., under all circumstances, are inflexibly opposed to, and will resist by every Constitutional right, the extension of slavery, the re-opening of foreign slave trade, the consolidation of despotic power in the Federal Government or restrictions upon the freedom of speech and the press, or of opinion. She will support the Constitution and the Union, not because they are respected elsewhere, but because they deserve their and appreciates their value. The Governor further says: Nor do I apprehend that the restoration of the government to its ancient policy will involve the bonds of land to the dissolution of the Union. In my judgment dissolution is one of the evils not within the scope of it be within the purpose of human power. There are stronger ties than those which spring from the wish or will of interested men. The Pacific Coast is an indivisible empire. Whoever shall divide the Mississippi River, must possess the power to dissipate its rolling floods and desecrate its bed and bore back its waters to the fountains of bubbling springs and mountain rivulets that have nourished the Father of Rivers from the time when the morning stars first sang together. The ties of the Great Lakes are indissoluble of separation upon physical considerations, but the position of antagonistic as New York and Pennsylvania should find, that pay four-fifths of the revenues of the government, will be of sufficient importance to hold together the Eastern line of States in whichever side political power may be exercised. Such views is not among the impending evils of this country; but our form of government is in imminent danger and challenges the most serious apprehensions of the friends of constitutional liberty.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The National Union Executive Central Committee met last evening, Senator Crittenden in the Chair. Progress was made in enlarging the Committee by additions of members from different States, and in the arrangement for thorough organization throughout the country.

The Committee have received what they conceive to be cheering evidences of the ripening of the people for this new party.

A circular was ordered to be issued by the Secretary, and an address is in the course of preparation.

It is said that a sharp correspondence has passed between the counsel of the new Aladdin Mining Company of California, and the Attorney-General, Secretary of State and the President, with respect to the instructions issued to the Consul in Mexico, not to take testimony there as a notary, as is authorized by an act of Congress.

Counsel claim that the interdiction is equivalent to the suspension or abrogation of the law, and without precedent, an invasion of the rights of citizens, injurious in its effect, and of dangerous import.

Chief Justice Taney is still absent from the Supreme Court through sickness, though he is gradually improving.

From New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Senator Seward arrived here to-day and proceeded to Washington in the evening train.

Another writ of error has been granted in the case of James Stephens who has been sentenced to death the third time for poisoning his wife.

The Washington correspondence of the Commercial Advertiser says there are rumors again of a military organization for Mexico in aid of the Liberalists. There is no doubt that the organization of volunteers attempted last fall under the influence of Gen. Vidaurri, and then suppressed, has been revived. The leaders here consulted the Administration on the subject, but with what result is not known. Some of them go to Vera Cruz to make terms with Juarez.

MONETARY.

FRIDAY EVENING, Jan. 6, 1860.

The money market is close, all round It is almost impossible to obtain discounts for any purpose except eastern drafts with bills of lading for pork or produce attached. These are gladly taken by the banks, as exchange is added to the regular discount.

Exchange is firm at ¼@¾ premium for Gold; per cent. discount for Currency. Very little seems to be wanted on any terms.

ST. LOUIS.—The Democrat of yesterday says:

The Exchange market was close, and very much higher than it is three months ago. Instead of declining, as was anticipated, rates rather tend upward. Sight on the East was difficult to obtain at most any price. In order to purchase funds, to-day, though some sold at ¼, and others even as low as ¼ per cent., where want of funds was somewhat urgent. On New Orleans, ¼@¾ per cent. prem. was asked; and as by a delay of ten to twelve days it could be realized by remitting New Orleans balances East, there was nothing gained to the banker in selling even at such rates. Owing to the stringency of money at New Orleans, dealers cannot draw on time bills.

Currency, though in no great supply, is had in sufficiency for the present moderate wants, there being no demand for it to invest in country produce.

NEW YORK STATE BANKS.—The Message of the Governor of the State of New York has the following paragraphs in relation to the banks of this State:

The report of the Superintendent of the Banking Department, which will soon be presented to you, will exhibit in detail the operation of our banking system during the past year. It appears that during the fiscal year, three associations and three individual bankers have commenced, and one individual banker has discontinued, the business of banking. The total amount of securities held in trust for banking associations and individual bankers on the 30th of September, 1859, was twenty-eight millions, sixty-eight thousand, three hundred and thirty-six dollars and ninety-two cents:

Consisting of bonds and mortgages	$ 3,112,272.79
United States Stocks	1,000,000.00
State Stocks	1,000,000.00
Other State Stocks	1,501,197.00
Bonds of Cities	540,730.50
Cash on deposit	79,334.54
On the faith of the public deposits
Loaned to Corporations	$ 19,185,402.09
Loaned to Individuals
Total	28,068,936.92
Total deposits	$ 28,161,376 01
Total capital stock paid in	19,185,402.09
Surplus	8,976,533.92

The total amount of banking capital employed is one hundred and ten millions, nine hundred and eighty-two thousand and forty dollars, being an increase of one million and four hundred and ninety dollars during the year.

SPECIE.—We find from the New York papers that the imports and exports of specie were as follows: Received from California, $58,975,736. Specie exports, $70,317,782, showing a balance of more than $30,000,000 against us. As the banks of New York hold now nearly as much coin as they did a year ago, it follows that most of this thirty millions of money have been drawn from the country. During the high rates that ruled during four months of the summer, the West was nearly drained of its coin. The West especially, and in fact the whole country, must suffer from this depletion. We repeat that we must buy less and save more.

We observe that the money market of New York is stringent, and we are assured by gentlemen who have visited it in this city of later than ours. From all appearances a general "pinch" all round may be confidently expected.
